CHALK by Theo Clinkard

Winchester Discovery Centre

Performances:

7 November 6pm–7pm
and 8pm–9pm

Tickets: £10 (concessions £8)
Includes Theo Clinkard in conversation with Sacha Lee

Acclaimed dancer and fresh choreographic voice, Theo Clinkard, is joined on stage by composer James Keane in CHALK, a stark, poetic and intensely physical work inspired by the iconic chalk cliffs of Clinkard's hometown. Performed in an intimate setting, this truly visceral duet promises to leave you with a very different sense of your own makeup.

CHALK was created using National Lottery funding through Arts Council England. Commissioned by The Tanja Liedtke Foundation and Pavilion Dance.

CHALK: time, sense and landscape

Winchester Discovery Centre

Symposium:

17 October 9am–5.30pm

Tickets: £20 (concessions £17)

A one-day international symposium exploring landscapes, beneath and beyond the visible.

Contributors include: John Levack Drever (Professor of Sound Art at Goldsmiths); Prof Paul Whitty (Composer); Michael Welland (Geologist/Author); Guy Sherwin (Film Artist); Dr Nick Thorpe (Archaeologist).

The Wilderness – Place of Wild Beasts

St Catherine's Hill

25 & 26 October

Special event:

dusk 25 October 4pm–7pm

FREE ENTRY

Sean Harris uses animation to explore the landscape and our relationship with it. A trail of hand-cranked 'flip-book boxes' winds around the summit of St. Catherine's Hill by day – and at dusk on the 25th, the creatures that inhabit them come to life through a magical digital projection. Hugh Greasley performs poems of the wilderness.

Bring a torch, lit trail to find your way home. Open to all, families welcome.

10 days, the biennial interdisciplinary arts platform across Winchester invites you to join over 100 artists and writers in exhibitions and events on the theme of CHALK.

Geologically, chalk is rare, yet Winchester is built upon and surrounded by it. Chalk has long been a material of art and local archaeology.
